

College of Nursing Science

Department of Nursing Science

at Sungshin Women's University

Educational Philosophy

Sungshin Women's University establishes values rooted in the educational principles of Sincerity(誠信), Knowledge Renewal(知新), and Self-development(自動). Recognizing the interconnectedness of human health and nursing, we prioritize the well-being and welfare of individuals, aiming to embody the spirit of humanity and sharing.

Educational Goals

To realize health and welfare in diverse nursing fields, we aim to produce internationally ethical and morally upright nurses. Equipped with scientific knowledge, nursing skills, and attitudes necessary for disease prevention, health recovery, and maintenance, we target individuals, families, and local communities both domestically and internationally.

Departmental Educational Goals

1. We apply nursing knowledge to maintain and enhance the health, prevent diseases, and facilitate recovery of individuals.
2. We provide scientific clinical skills to address various nursing issues in the healthcare field.
3. We apply principles of safety and quality improvement, cultivating integrated problem-solving skills through critical thinking.
4. We comprehensively understand the individuals and engage in holistic nursing care.
5. We understand diverse cultures and exercise leadership as nursing leaders with international competence.
6. We manage the health of populations within the healthcare system through effective communication and collaboration.
7. We establish a professional nursing ethic based on legal, ethical norms, and a sense of responsibility.
8. To advance the nursing profession, we utilize information and communication technology, stay updated on the latest healthcare technologies, and engage in nursing research.
